About the instructor, Emily Colay: Emily Colay has enjoyed an incredibly diverse and successful career as a premiere vocalist in the Twin Cities over the past 25+ years, and as a choir director and educator. As a singer/songwriter and accomplished live performance artist, her resume spans from headlining major music festivals with rock bands to composing multi-voiced music for theatrical productions, conducting choirs of all ages, and as a go-to vocalist for studio recording. Trained in classical Bel Canto technique, her early years also included immersion in world music, as well as writing/performing in contemporary ensembles. This foundation has given her unique versatility, with a personal repertoire spanning dozens of languages, and just as many musical genres.
